Dr. and Mrs. Dunn, of Richmond, spent the day here Wednesday the guests of the Messrs. Smith on Palace Green. Dr. Dunn stands very high in the medical fraternity.

Should there be an error in any bill we send a subscriber, the same will be cheerfully corrected if the matter is brought to our attention. It is quite a task to keep several hundred accounts straight, even if the matter is small. That reminds us that there are a few delinquent subscribers on our list and we request that they be settled immediately or the paper will be discontinued.

"I crave but One Minute," said the public speaker in a husky voice; and then he took a dose of One Minute Cough Cure, and proceeded with his oratory. One Minute Cough Cure is unequalled for throat and lung troubles.—Leonard Henley.

Sam Merriweather, an ex convict and his wife are in jail, each having the other arrested on counter-charges of fighting. They went for 30 days each but Sam asked to be allowed to serve 60 days, both his own and his wife's term. Sam, however, showed this spirit of magnanimity not because he loves his wife but because he loves prison life better. There's a good subject for a chain gang.

John Griffin, of Zanesville, O., says: "I never lived a day for thirty years without suffering agony, until a box of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my piles." For piles and rectal troubles, cuts, bruises, sprains, eczema and all skin troubles De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled.—Leonard Henley.

It heals everything except a broken heart, may be said of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Piles and rectal diseases, cuts, bruises, sprains, eczema and all skin troubles may be cured by it quickly and permanently.—Leonard Henley.

There is a time for everything, and the time to attend to a cold is when it starts. Don't wait till you have consumption but prevent it by using One Minute Cough Cure, the great remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.—Leonard Henley.

SENATOR RICHARD COKE.

A man of the nation is gone! O'er Waco a lowering pall of sadne's hovers that will be dispelled only by the hand of time, and through the gloom of years God's great sunlight can only chase away the grim shadows that linger in the wake of the grim reaper who has swept from our midst one of the brightest gems of intellect that has blessed the most prosperous and progressive nation of our era.

At 1:15 o'clock this morning this great and noble man's spirit took flight to the realms beyond, while the tender arms of a devoted and loving wife were twined around the dead form of her beloved, and as the angel of death kissed the placid forehead of this mighty and glorious being, and chilled the life current of his heart, the sable angle of despair snapped the tender chords of hope and implanted on the warm heart of true and tried love its indelible stamp of woe. As a tribute to his greatness, as a mark of esteem to his magnificence, as the feeble efforts of the finite to pay tribute to the infinite, as the crimson flood of life ceased its course the low mellow tones of the city's alarm bells tolled out their plaintive tones in sadness through the night's darkness until the coming of the dawn. The elements of heaven burst their confines and poured down its flood of waters. And as the city's silent sleepers arouse this morning to learn the news, sighs and audible woes of a multitude will ascend to heaven as lamentations of their distress.

The body, has been embalmed and will lay in state at the family residence, No 805 South Eighth street, when the funeral rights will be performed by that noble and life long friend of the deceased, Rev. Rufus C. Burleson. The body will then be followed to Oakwood cemetery, where among the mounds of sleeping friends that have passed before, the remains will be given back to mother earth, and another mound will rise in the city of the sleeping dead.

Richard Coke was born in Williamsburg, Va., in 1829 and served as a captain of infantry through the late civil war. He came to Waco in 1850 and at the surrender of Gen. Robt. E. Lee was elected as judge of the Nineteenth district court in 1865. In 1866 he was elected as a judge of the supreme bench of Texas; but was removed within the first six months of his service by an order from Gen. Phil Sheridan for the reason that he was too loyal to the south and her people and was considered by Sheridan as not in sympathy with the reconstructionists and an obstacle to their plans. The people of Texas showed their high appreciation of his loyalty to his state, his uncompromising manhood, his sympathy with the people of the south, his magnificent intellect and his unswerving devotion to duty by electing him governor of Texas in 1873. He was inaugurated in January of 1874, served out his full term and was re-elected in 1875, took his seat in the senate of the United States, where he served as one of the most distinguished members of that body until he resigned. Since that time he has remained at home until he was stricken down with paralysis several days ago.

As a statesman, no man in the whole United States has stood higher, or commanded the respect of the greatest minds of this country than has Senator Coke. As a patriot and a citizen, none have surpassed him in ardor or deep affection for the best interests of his country—broad-minded, conscientious, honorable and unswerving, he has stood a giant in intellect and by force and power of his massive intellect has done service for the State of Texas that can be measured only by the length of years. Senator Coke was the embodiment of all that was grand and noble, honorable and generous, weighty and superb, a man of power, a man of intellect, a magnificent statesman, a grand citizen, a warm patriot, a devoted husband and indulgent father, and withal a man whose equal is numbered on the globe only in small numbers.

The late Senator Coke, an account of whose death we publish above from the Waco Morning Times, was born on the farm known as "The Main" seven miles southwest of this city. He has relatives in this city and, among whom are to be found some of the leading men of the community. Some of the relatives are the Hankinses, (Dr. Hankins, of this city) Dr. Leonard Henley and family and Mrs. C. W. Jones. The Coke family have always been influential wherever they are to be found.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfils every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effect following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention The Gazette and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co. Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
